Switching On the King Country

A CENTURY OF COMMUNITY ACHIEVEMENT

Helen Reilly's book tells the story of how electricity came to the King Country over eight chapters:

- » From candlelight to electric light (1911–24)
- » Power in the borough is in short supply — the rural community takes up the challenge (1924–39)
- » Rural communities are eventually electrified (1939–58)
- » Consolidation and expansion (1959–69)
- » Upgrades, amalgamations and reforms (1970–89)
- » A decade of government reforms and company development (1989–99)
- » Coming to grips with separation (1999–2007)
- » New challenges for rural electricity companies (2008–)
